

Rules of combination

It is impossible for us to keep up with qualification rules of combination for all the thousands of qualifications we have loaded to the e-portfolio. The following is intended to eliminate errors created when those rules are not followed

When an Assessor selects or deselects a unit from the “Unit Assignment “ tab, and then clicks on the “save” button, a pop up appears and reminds the Assessor to check that the rules of combination for that qualification have still been met by those changes.

The screenshot shows a web interface for a qualification titled "PLTS: A framework of personal, learning and thinking skills (832)" with learner target dates from 19/03/2013 to 19/03/2014. A table lists six units with their titles and checkboxes for selection. A pop-up dialog box is overlaid on the table, displaying a message from www.vqmanager.co.uk and an option to prevent further dialogues. At the bottom right of the interface are "Save" and "Cancel" buttons.

Unit number	Unit title	Select all / Deselect all
1	Independent enquirers	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
2	Creative thinkers (2069)	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
3	Reflective learners (2069)	<input type="checkbox"/>
4	Team workers (20692)	<input type="checkbox"/>
5	Self-managers (20693)	<input type="checkbox"/>
6	Effective participators (20694)	<input type="checkbox"/>

The page at www.vqmanager.co.uk says:

Rules of combination may apply to this qualification. Please ensure that your unit allocations comply with the rules.

Prevent this page from creating additional dialogues.

OK Cancel

Save Cancel