

Signing off a unit at less than 100% due to range.

The calculated % completion is intended only as a guide. The assessor's decision about whether something is complete or not is considered more important in the system, and therefore overrides.

Specifically, the system can't take into account in this calculation that all of the range doesn't need to be covered. This means that the calculated percentage won't reach 100% where there is range involved.

However, when the assessor signs the unit off, the percentage will show 100% at that point, since the assessor deems it complete.
